

MONTH 12

Sunday 1ST July, 2007

OFFICIALY 11 MONTHS OLD TODAY!

Following on from Mummy & Daddy's eventful weekend at the end of last month, you then had a bad tummy too for about a week and were very wingy with it!!

Apart from that you have been very good, went to keep coming up on the sofa to 'play' by standing between my legs and pulling on the neck of my t-shirt though which is getting annoying.

Thursday 19th July – can stand up on your own unaided for about 3 seconds now.

Friday 20th July – Granny & Granddad Mott came over and you gave them your usual reaction by clinging onto me and wouldn't let go – How embarrassing!.

Saturday 22nd July – Went to see a car near Portsmouth first thing. You were a very good girl and only winged a little bit. Held you while Daddy took it for a test drive then let you crawl all over the Car Dealers office floor while we did the relevant paperwork and you got lovely and black!. Think the Car Dealer thought we were barmy letting you get like that!.

I drove the new car back and Daddy had you in the Astra. You fell asleep on the way back and didn't wake up until we got to B & Q.

Daddy got us some lunch while we swapped cars and I took you home to get your dinner and put you down for a nap. Went shopping as soon as you woke up so all in all a very busy day and you were really good.

Tuesday 24th July – Went down to see Great Granny Attrill in the new car and you were a very good girl. I sat you on the wooden chair in the living room and gave you your tea like that. You sat there very well only leaning over to see what I had next!.

Wednesday 25th July – Daddy left a box on the floor by the sofa which you discovered and found that if you climbed on it you could get up on the sofa all by yourself!! – HMMMM.

Thursday 26th July – Went to the last Family Group before the summer break and they all sang you happy birthday for next week and you had your first candle.

Monday 30th July – Went to work and spoke to Daddy on the radio, told me he thought he had you doing a ‘1st’ which he caught on video camera. I guessed a couple of things and got nearly there – as it turned out he had left the hall stair gate open and initially you were playing with the nappy bags (as usual) left by the front door to go out to the bin, then he heard you patting the floor only he realised it wasn’t the floor and when he came to find you to investigate you had already made it to the second step – this was when he got the video camera and encouraged you to climb to the top which you did and thought it was great fun to leg it up the landing when you got there! – CLEVER GIRL.
