

MONTH 9

Thursday 1ST April, 2007

OFFICIALY 8 MONTHS OLD TODAY!

Has been waking up in the middle of the night again but not really awake, just complaining we think because you are teething. Bottom left one of the front two is just breaking the skin.

Going from laying down to sitting up by yourself

Something upset your tummy as you had what looked like a mint sauce pooey nappy and had 4 poos one straight after the other and subsequently got really bad nappy rash. So much so that we couldn't give you a bath mid-week and Daddy had to give you an all over flannel wash instead.

Was cleared up a lot by the weekend so you could have your bath Saturday night as normal.

Moany/Clingy – Separation Anxiety

More noises – getting more Gobby!

Still a bit funny in the first 5/10 minutes around Granny & Granddad Mott but absolutely fine after that – very happy and smiley and content to sit on their laps & play.

Stood up in inflatable ring for about 2 seconds all by yourself – put you in there after you have had your bottle for a little while until your food has had a chance to go down. You tend to stand up but bending over leaning on side of the ring.

Have started holding on to furniture to stand up and making attempts to move round by yourself.

Uncle Charles looked after you one evening while Daddy & I went to Reading for my birthday treat and you were as good as gold. You also had a stay over at Granny Oxlade's while Daddy took me out for a meal with Sarah and then went to Chicago Rock Café for a drink – first night off in 9 months – lovely!

Off colour for the last couple of days at the end of the month – nappies to prove it!
