

4 - 5 YEARS

Sunday 1st August, 2010 – Thank goodness, you are now officially 4 today and you can stop asking ‘when will I be 4 like Dari?’!! Decided to throw you a small party for some of your Nursery friends today and was a little disappointed as having only asked 6 people to come that only 3 of them turned up. Never the less, you had a lovely time.

Wednesday 4th August, 2010 – Today signalled the Eastrop Park Fun Day which last year was hot & sunny, shame the same couldn't be said about today. However, regardless of the thunder & lightning and the torrential rain we still had fun and our picnic and you got your face painted.

Thursday 20th January, 2011 (!!!!!!!) – I am ashamed to say that this is the first opportunity I have had since August last year to update your blog. What with Summer Holidays and you starting School (OMG), me having 4 rides in an Ambulance at the beginning of October because of a prolapsed disc, you getting Chickenpox in the meantime and then passing it onto me and you then being Flower girl to my friend (Peter & Nikki Talbot) in November, Christmas when you were an Angel in the School Play (Daddy was working!) and then you having Tonsillitis the day before you were due to go back to School over the Christmas Holidays it has been pretty hectic to say the least!.

We have also been to the Doctors about your feet as it would appear you have very flat feet and are leaning in at your ankles which might explain why you hate walking so much. Am waiting for the assessment appointment to Physiotherapy department now.

Sunday 27th March, 2011 - Daddy and Verity watching the first Grand Prix of the season in Australia, Verity says to Daddy 'whose at the front?', Daddy say 'Sebastian Vettel' – Verity responds 'Hansel & Gretel?' – laughed my head off. Very clever!

We have been for your physio appointment and you have Hyper Mobility – Hyper extension from the knees down which means that your knees go back further than they should making you stand in a 'bow' like shape. Have exercises for you to do but hopefully something you should grow out of.

Collected your first proper school photo also this week.

Wednesday 25th May, 2011 – 'Mummy, I have a spot on my forehead ' – no babe thats your 1st freckle!!

Sunday 19th June, 2011 – Bad week this week for bumps & Grazes. Monday you ripped your toenail back at School and made it bleed, then on Wednesday at School you bumped your cheek followed by grazing your knee on Thursday. To top if off Mummy then dropped 2 half tins of beans off the top shelf at Morrisson's and gave you a lump on the top of your head – Sorry Boo!! Granny Oxlade is babysitting this evening while Mummy & Daddy go to my friends wedding. Can't wait to see John & Ayla. (Flexi).

I know this year seems a little short in 'content' but it has been very busy and i have spent more time enjoying you even though sometimes it doesn't look like it. I know there is more of the same behaviour to come but i hope through i continued discipline (naughty step etc) and your growth in school and confidence it will get even better.

P.S Your school report was brill and i look forward to more of the same.
